

Spending in the First 100 Days

Has anyone taken notice of the massive spending by the Biden Administration, or perhaps I should say Biden? I know Biden likes spending, and undoing all the good things Trump did for America, but in the first 100 days of Biden's time in office, he has single-handedly proposed a whopping $6 Trillion of NEW spending.

Maybe what is being overlooked is the BIG PICTURE of The Green New Deal (GND). Look at it this way. The GND was estimated to cost taxpayers approximately $100 Trillion. Now this kind of spending would really be hard to get through Congress in a single bill. Taxpayers would definitely reject that kind of spending. But wait! What if wives told their husbands, "Oh honey, I need a new outfit. It will only cost $1000." The husband balks at it and tells her, that they need a new air conditioner first due to the extreme heat. So the wife comes back a week later and asks if she can get some shoes. The husband agrees. Then the wife comes back another 2 weeks later and says she needs a new purse. He agrees. The wife comes back a month later and says she needs a skirt and blouse. He agrees. And so forth, until the spending is now back to $1000.

It looks as if Biden and the Socialist Dems are using the same tactic, called "Piecemealing". At the current rate of spending, by the Biden Administration, he may hit the $100 Trillion spending at the end of his only term, in 48 months. Another tactic being used are the use of names given to the various bills to give the impression that the bill is good and will benefit Americans. That practice must stop and names of bills should reflect exactly what they intend to do. "The Screw the American Taxpayers Act" or "Tax the Next 5 Generations Until They are Broke Act", are two good examples.

Democrats are BIG spenders and lie to your face about it. Remember this in 2022 and 2024.
