

Recipe for a Catastrophe ! What If ?

This is an analysis of events leading up to today that are meant ONLY for people to wake up and keep an open mind on the security of our nation.

In the months prior to Sept. 11, 2001, events were occurring that did not make people aware of what was about to happen. There are events occurring now that are happening right before our eyes that, when added together, could possibly be the ingredients for a catastrophic recipe.

The Ingredients:

- 1) When Biden took office, one of the first things he did was to open the border up to mass illegal immigration. He, and the head of the Department of Homeland Security, claim that the border is closed, but the reality is that unchecked people are flooding into the United States at a record pace.
- 2) It was reported that there are ISIS sympathetic camps within the U.S.
- 3) As of Aug. 14, 2021, Biden's Afghanistan exit policy, since there was no real plan, has allowed the Taliban to take over the country. Historically, when the Taliban was in control years ago, it allowed Al Qaeda to flourish within the country. It is now of grave concern that terrorist activity will return to Afghanistan. It was the main reason that the U.S. became involved in the occupation of Afghanistan was to find and eradicate Al Qaeda because of the attack on Sept. 11, 2001. Once that mission was complete, the U.S. should have left Afghanistan. The Biden administration now wants to import as many as 30,000 Afghan refugees into the U.S.
- 4) When U.S. forces exited the U.S. Bases, reportedly they left behind numerous weapons and armament. It was not specific, but it sounded as if it may have included bombs. IF so, then there is a real possibility that the Taliban may be able to reverse engineer and dismantle the bombs and produce smaller, more portable IEDs.

5) Due to the insane ideology of the Woke Community, there is a serious push to defund law enforcement agencies throughout the U.S.

The Recipe

Let's start with Afghanistan harboring Al Qaeda and extremist Jihadists. It is already known they want to kill Americans. What if they have access to any munitions left behind by the U.S. forces, and develop portable IEDs. What if they now smuggle people and IEDs across the Atlantic Ocean and sneak into Mexico. What if money is provided to Mexican coyotes and they are smuggled to the Mexico/U.S. border and cross into the U.S. without any confrontation since the Border Patrol is busy processing the hundreds of thousands of illegal migrants. What if they then proceed to contact any of the ISIS sympathetic groups currently in the U.S. What if Afghans that were allowed asylum into the U.S., without being properly vetted, are being directed to assist those that have smuggled in the IEDs. What if, while being harbored from detection, they identify multiple high value targets and fine tune their mission parameters. What if they then identify a date, such as Sept. 11, as a date with multiple coordinated attacks. What if they are then dispersed to their targets, undetected, due to the lack of law enforcement. What if they then place the IEDs at the targets and set them off either by timer, remote detonation or suicide style. What Then?

Everyone MUST stay vigilant to make sure this does not happen. Yet, if it does, I wonder if the Dems will try to blame White Supremacists for these acts of death. If the terrorists from Afghanistan are actually identified, then the Dems will keep America in fear and start another 20 year war.

The current administration appears to not want to do anything to secure the southern border and at the same time admit thousands of foreign nationals without proper vetting. A story I heard tonight was a platoon was ambushed in Afghanistan. Upon investigation it was discovered that an Afghanistan interpreter, working with the military for several years prior, was actually responsible for working with those planting the IEDs which killed one and severely injured four others. The point: you CANNOT always trust those foreign national civilians that were working alongside the military.
